

International Deans' Programme 2012

- Gain unique insights into the multiple roles of deans of business and management schools.
- Engage in debates about real time complex issues – income streams and funding models, governance, the student and alumni experience, reputation/branding, faculty development, internationalisation, globalisation, technology, markets, positioning.
- Visit a diverse range of business and management schools, take time out to network with your counterparts, re-energise and reflect on strategies for your own school.

I found the IDP provides both an engaging network of fellow deans from around the globe as well as a great opportunity to expand my personal experiences and contacts in radically different global communities.

Prof. Chris Earley, Dean, Purdue University's Krannert School of Management, formerly Dean of the University of Connecticut School of Business and Dean of the National University of Singapore Business School, Chair of Organizational Behavior at London Business School and Randall L. Tobias Chair of Global Leadership at Indiana University's Kelley School of Business.
